

Zagadnienia Biofizyki Współczesnej tom 10, 1985, 49-79

Some physical aspects of active transport models

Zygmunt Gałdzicki, Stanisław Miękiś

Fundamental physical ideas in modeling active transport systems are presented. A classification of these models is made. Both situations close to equilibrium and far from equilibrium are considered. The role of asymmetry in creating the coupling between chemical reaction and diffusion is discussed.