

Zagadnienia Biofizyki Współczesnej tom 7, 1982, 5-32

Geometrical formulation of statistical theory of thermodynamical processes and its applications in biology

Roman S. Ingarden

Recent results on the geometrization of basic thermodynamics are summarized. Special attention is given to the statistical theory of thermodynamical processes. The possible biological applications of the theory are discussed.